Dad's Famous French Toast WRITTEN COMPOSITION

Does your family have a breakfast holiday tradition? My dad does his famous french toast. We love waking up on a winter holiday to the smell of his warm french toast. Let me explain how he does it.

First, let me tell you what you need to make the french toast. You need 6 slices of texas style bread, 3 eggs, cinnamon, a bowl, a fork, butter, a pan, and fresh cut strawberries.

Mix the eggs in the bowl. Whisk them together with a fork for one minute. Put the pan on medium heat on the stove and add 2/3 a teaspoon of butter to melt. Once it's melted, dip one slice of bread in the eggs. Then put it on the pan. Cook it for about 2 1/2 minutes on both sides. Continue this until all of the bread's is done.

Just imagine being woken up with a french toast, fresh cut strawberries on top with syrup or honey and a hot chocolate with marshmallows. This has been my dad's breakfast holiday tradition for as long as I can remember. I hope you get to enjoy it with your family like I do! Ah Ah Ah.
