Recipe for Success

recipe4success.org

Gracie Cavnar is dedicated to changing the way children understand, appreciate, and eat their food, one bite at a time. She founded her nonprofit organization, Recipe for Success, to steer children in low-income communities away from processed foods through hands-on experiences that make healthy eating fun, holistically combating the childhood obesity epidemic. Recipe for Success now reaches over 3,000 students through classes, after-school programs, camps, parent classes, and community outreach.
